Afterglow

I'd like the memory of me
to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles
when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering
softly down the ways.
Of happy times and laughing times
and bright sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve,
to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave
when life is done.

In Loving Memory

Dear Faye, Karen & John,

Your love and friendship through this trying time is so much appreciated. You're very special!

Faye, our visit the other day was very cathartic and I'm sure Mom will keep in touch once she's able. I appreciate your candidness and now I understand fully the special relationship through the years!

Your floral arrangement is beautiful and fits so well in the living room. Mom will draw comfort from that I'm sure!

Love,
Nancy Sue

The only thing you couldn't find in Anderson the day after Christmas was a parking spot outside any large store in the city.

With snow drifting down, Pauline Steigerwalt of Chesterfield clutched a bag as she left Kohl's Department Store at Southtown Center on Scatterfield Road. Like many others, she braved the cold and congested parking lots to return some items and take advantage of the after-Christmas sales.

"The trousers I bought for my son were too short, so I came to get the size that fits him," she said. "And I always buy my ribbons and wrapping paper and cards the day after Christmas. I've

CHALLENGE WORST BLIZZARD OF YEAR TO ANSWER TO QUESTIONNAIRES.

CLASSIFICATIONS ON SATURDAY

The impression that Uncle Sam makes on the average citizen was emphasized yesterday by the number of young men who faced the most severe storm in years to return questionnaires to Madison County Conscription Board No. 1 within the allotted time. It was the general opinion of those about the office that a man who is game enough to get out in yesterday's storm to serve a request of his country has the qualities that would whip the Kaiser single-handed. Class 3—Wm. H. Samuels, C. Guy Shively, C. C. Jenkins, Raymond B. Crull, J. P. Crawford, H. F. Maize, A. P. Hall.

Class 4—R. E. Shetterly, B. G. Anderson, Frank Renforth, W. C. Wiseharthart, F. N. Summers, Porter Prigg, A. Van Meter, G. E. Ebbert, Geo. Sparks, C. F. Flowers, A. Holloway, H. V. Whitinger, O. E. About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will be published and packaged with that set of discs. With the publication of every 25 discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that volume of discs. Discs may be purchased as sets or volumes.

Wilson Bible Records

Barb Huff found this in THE DAILY REPUBLICAN, Monday, October 3, 1887, pg 1 col 5.

"Uncle" Isaac Wilson showed us this morning a psalm and prayer book made in 1768 and was used by his grandfather, William Wilson. The blank pages in the book contain the following records of the sons and daughters of William Wilson:

William Wilson and Hannah McCarty were married on June 13, 1776,
Isaac Wilson was born on April 5, 1777;
Elizabeth Wilson, January 4, 1781;
Rachel Wilson, September 25, 1792;
Hannah Wilson, June 11, 1787;
Hannah McCarty, December 9, 1750;
James Wilson, father of Isaac H. Wilson, was born January 15, 1779.

Mr. Wilson prizes the book very highly.

ing in 2021 and the second property in 2022," she said.

Sulc said the transfer of the properties was undergoing a title search to remove any liens.

The ACDC took under advisement requests for the donation of two properties being requested by the Circle of Hope Church.

Sulc said the two properties are at 2450 and 2518 Delaware St.

In other business: The ACDC received two offers to purchase a lot at 615 Louise St.

Sulc said the two offers were below the listed sales price and he received approval to inform bidders of the price and to negotiate a potential sale.

Victoria's Properties is interested in purchasing properties at 1639 W. 18th St. and 1812 Arrow Ave.

Sulc explained Victoria's Properties was the previous owner of the two locations.

The ACDC board approved negotiating a sales price with Victoria's Properties, but it can't be lower than what the properties were originally purchased for by the ACDC.

FELL DEAD.

Traveling Salesman who Has Been Here Two Days—The Cause.

D. S. Thompson, a traveling salesman for the Main Belting Company, 248 Randolph street, Chicago, fell dead just outside the Union station at Indianapolis yesterday. Mr. Thompson had been in Anderson since Thursday calling on his several customers among manufacturers and was registered at the Griffith house.

Yesterday morning he intended to go to the Big Four station on a Meridian street car, but the trolley line broke and he got on the Ohio avenue car with Frank Wild, George Lilly and a Bulletin reporter, and rode to Thirteenth street. He was a large man, about sixty years old and carried two grips.

Mr. Wild assisted him on the train. The man said then he was suffering from asthma, but complained no more and was talking and joking with passengers.

From Indianapolis he intended to go to Franklin and having some time to spend at Indianapolis started around the station when he staggered about for a few seconds and fell. The body lay on the wet pavement for an hour because of a misunderstanding in the calls for the coroner and ambulance. The cause of the death was prononnced cerebal apoplexy.

Mr. Thopmson has ben coming to Anderson for the past fifteen years, always stopping at the Griffith house. He was an intimate friend of the late George Griffith, both having been born in the state of Delaware and near the same place. Mr. Thompson was also well known to our manufacturing intstitutions, having transacted considerable business with many of them.

Hi,

I am doing research on our family history and see that your email address is associated with the surname "Swinford" in Harrison, KY. Per my research, it looks as if my ancestors spent a few generations in/around Harrison before migrating to Indiana where my immediate family came from.

You're the first I've contacted to further my research & I don't really know what to say or ask for but if you have any information specific to:

Milton (b. 1808) son of John (b. 1760) son of James Swinford (b.1740) would be greatly appreciated!

The age gap between John and Milton look large but these were the days before contraception so I guess anything is possible...?

Thanks in advance - please let me know if you have questions or need more information.

Pioneer Cemeteries and Their Stories,

Madison County, Indiana

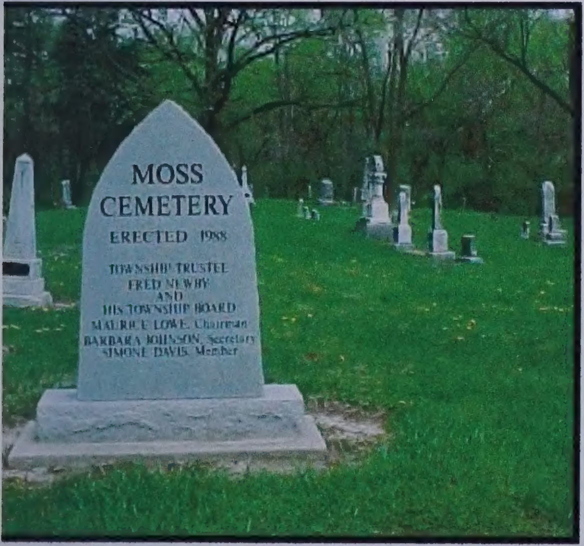
Moss Cemetery

Home Up

aka Moss Island

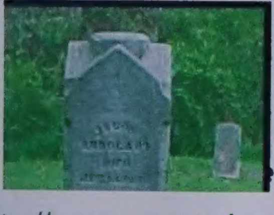
Anderson Township

Location: north side of 8th Street, between Park Road and Longfellow Drive



As the sign indicates, the Moss Cemetery was refurbished by the Anderson Township trustee and his committee in 1988. While the Moss Cemetery is surrounded on three sides by a line of trees, fence, and undergrowth, on the other side of these are housing developments. The Moss Cemetery's south side abuts 8th Street, and this pioneer graveyard is quite visible to the motorists on this busy route.

The most traveled road in Madison County in the pioneer days was South Bank Road, what has become 8th Street/8th reet Road/West 8th Street. Skirting the south bank of White River, this route was one of the few marked paths or 'aces" into the western sections of Madison County and from there into the western areas of the New Purchase. cause of the accessibility, the land along this route was some of the first settled in east-central Indiana. nsequently, the land contains quite a few pioneer cemeteries. From the west side of what was called Andersontown those days to the Madison-Hamilton county line, along what was once a dirt path and is now designated as West 8th reet, there are seven known places of burial. The Moss Cemetery is one of these. It was named for the John Moss mily, many of whom are buried here. John originally owned and donated the land for use as a graveyard. The Moss metery, located in the southeast quarter of section 9 in Anderson Township, was once on a secluded wooded knoll. It now, like other pioneer cemeteries, surrounded by mid 20th century housing developments.



While most of the burials are from the latter third of the 19th century, there are a number of pioneers resting here whose birth dates are in the 18th century. The Mosses, John and wife Ann, were born around 1789 and 1787 and died in 1865 and 1864 respectively. Ann's gravestone is pictured at right. A mid-Victorian marker of more than average design, it has a recessed Bible and first name with filigree framing. The major carving has also been set with corner decorations. Ann lived for "77Y 7M & 23D." Another pair, en earlier. Nancy was born in 1780 and died in 1864. Philip has the distinction of being born in 1775 before the volutionary War and dying during the Civil War in 1863. One of the earliest burials, however, was that of Isaac hnson, who died in 1840 at fifty-one years; he may have been the first interred here. Born in the early 1800s, the xt generation includes Hannah Bradgley, 1801-1884; Jacob Arbogast, 1810-1882, whose stone is at left; Marion Davis, 17-1883; Nancy Davis, 1814-1879; Catherine Brown, 1828-1879; and Elias Brown, 1820-1875.

The number of children buried at the Moss Cemetery is not surprising considering that the death rate for children in 00s was one of four, often rising to one out of three. Seven children from the Martin family are buried here as well W.H. Martin of the "8th Ind. Inf. Co. G" who was killed in the Civil War.

Joseph Hartzell's stone on the left shows the Victorian's traditional symbol for meeting in the after-life: the hands clasped. The shaping of the top is also unique. Joseph died Sept. 15, 1870, at "48Y 10M 10D."

The stone on the right is from later in the 1800s. This double construction indicates a married couple, and the columns represent noble lives.

The secondary name, "Moss Island Cemetery," refers to the Moss Island Mills once located nearby; the mills were rectly on White River. Many times a cemetery would take on the name of an important structure in the vicinity, and the Moss Cemetery was in later years referred to as the Moss Island Cemetery in deference to the famous mills. Mills ere one of the most important additions to pioneer life. A mill transferred the power of a river's current to grinding ones or cutting blades through the use of a large wooden, paddled wheel placed in the water. The grinding stones nverted hard grains into usable meals and the blades turned timber into lumber. Thus, pioneers and early settlers d the two most important necessities for survival, food and shelter. Before the Moss Island Mills were built in 1836 by seph Mullinix, the closest mills were in Perkinsville down river and Pendleton overland fourteen miles away. The ss Island Mills were only three miles from Andersontown and so, at the hub of industry and farming, benefited eryone in the surrounding townships. The millhouse and waterwheel were large, well-built structures that became so portant to the county that they remained landmarks long after their use was over.

r murder trial

During cross-examination of Mellen, Tyler's lead defense attorney Blanchard Shearer probed Mellen about the actual time of death. Mellen said the date could not be determined because the body was preserved in a cooler before he examined it, thus changing the corpse's rate of decay, by which a pathologist could usually make such an estimation.

Shearer has stated that the uncertainty surrounding the date of death makes it difficult for the defense to establish an alibi.

Mellen said Robinette's body showed signs he had died at least 18 hours before the April 14 examination.

"Although the coroner's (pronouncement of Robinette's) time of death was given as April 14 (in paperwork concerning the case), it's likely (Robinette) would have died on the 12th, or even a day or so earlier," Mellen said.

Robinette's daughter, pastor and numerous Anderson police officers were also called to testify Wednesday to substantiate how the deceased was discovered, who might have last heard from him before his death and to clarify various stages of the police investigation.

The trial continues at 9 a.m. today in Madison Superior Court 3. Judge Thomas Newman presides.

BODY DANGLES FROM ROPES END

Seymour Ensminger, Residing Four Miles Northeast of Fairland, Committed Suicide By Hanging

BODY WAS CUT DOWN BY SON

Mr. Ensminger Had Been Despondent For Weeks Brooding Over Illness Of His Father and Himself

---------- Seymour Ensminger, aged about forty years, living four miles northeast of Fairland and one-half miles west of the Teardown school house, committed suicide this morning about 8 o'clock by hanging. His body was found by his son Ora, and taken to the house.

Mr. Ensminger had been moody and despondent for the past few weeks. Members of the family have been guarding him for fear that he would take his own life, as he had threatened to do on several occasions, but this morning he slipped away from them and went to the barn. Here he secured an old rope halter and tying one end about his neck and the other about a joist he jumped from the box on which he was standing. When found his feet were dangling only a few inches from the floor.

Mrs. Ensminger became alarmed at the absence of her husband from the house and her son, Ora, went to the barn to find his father. Opening the barn door he was horrified to see the body of a man dangling from the joist, with a rope about his neck. He quickly cut it down and gave the alarm, other members of the family assisting in taking the body to the house.

A physician was hastily called but it was found that life had been extinct for several minutes. A deep black ring was plainly seen about the man's neck, caused by the pressure of the thick rope.

Relatives of the man say they were fearful of such a deed for several weeks. Mr. Ensminger had been moody and despondent, sitting alone for hours around the house. The family did not know the cause for his actions, for as it was known the man's affairs were in good shape. He had no bad habits, but for some time had been in poor health and this coupled with the illness of his father, William Ensminger, is thought to have unbalanced the man's mind. Mr. Ensminger's father, William Ensminger, has been ill for several months, suffering with cancer of the face and is in a serious condition. The news of the son's death may prove fatal to him.

Mr. Ensminger was well known in and around Fairland and was at times a man of jovial disposition. He was industrious and had met with much success on his farm. Besides his wife he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ensminger, one sister, Mrs. Lulu Gephart, of Fairland, one daughter, Reecie, and two sons, Ora and Ira. The funeral announcement will be made later.

Grisly Tales Of Spacemen Are Related

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the best tradition of the Loch Ness monster and the abominable snowman, there are tales also of dead Russians circling the earth in spacecraft that went astray.

A considerable body of grisly literature has produced incredible tales recently about Soviet men and women sitting with lifeless hands on the long since useless controls of moon ships that missed their target and are now in perpetual orbit around the sun.

It is inevitable that sooner or later an American or Soviet astronaut will die in space, but U.S. officials believe that when it happens, the government concerned will announce it. They strongly doubt such a tragedy could be long concealed.

What has made the stories about Russia's space calamaties so real is that they quote snatches of space conversations reported to have been overheard by ground stations here and there.

However, the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has never authenticated any remarks purporting to come from cosmonauts about to die in space.

Most of the alleged tragedies were to have occurred in the period 1959 to 1962. All have been denied by Russia.

Moscow To Get Supermarkets

MOSCOW (AP)—The supermarket—called the "supersam" in the Communist bloc—is finally coming to Moscow.

The newspaper Evening Moscow published an architect's drawing of the proposed glass and concrete building, inviting comments from readers.

The response was instantaneous. Hundreds of letter writers urged that the store be put up in their neighborhoods.

Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and other Soviet-bloc countries have had supermarkets for several years.

BACK TO WORK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ralph Harvey, R-Ind., who suffered a broken leg in a golf cart accident May 18, said he expects to be "on my own power" by Labor Day as he left Bethesda Naval Hospital Friday. Harvey, on crutches, said he plans to resume House duties this week.

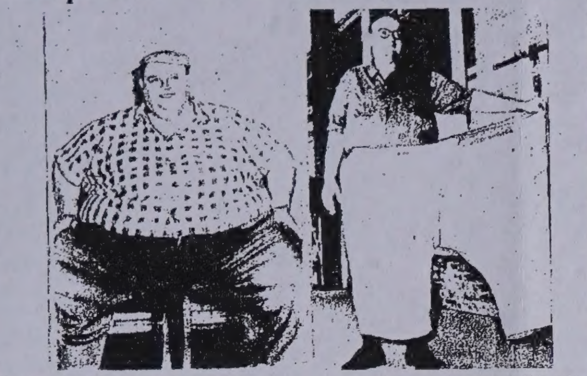
800-pounder Slims Down To Mere 230



Happy Humphrey of Macon, Ga., has lost nearly 600 pounds. Once known as the world's largest wrestler, he weighed 802 pounds in September, 1962. He now weighs 232. Happy, whose real name is William J. Cobb, said his weight reduction was the result of a research project at the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta. "It changed my whole life," said Happy, who is shown at right in one leg of what formerly was one pair of his trousers. (AP Wirephoto)

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Happy Humphrey weighed 802 pounds three years ago, and he was so fat he had to sit up to sleep.

Today, fresh from a dieting research program, he is almost 600 pounds lighter and says the difference has changed his life.

"For the first time in my life I can cross my legs," said Happy, crossing them. "Look at this.

"I can do things now that I could never do before. I can hunt and fish and swim. And for the first time in 15 years I can sleep lying down. I was so big that I used to have to sleep sitting at a 45-degree angle.

"I can even wear store-bought clothes now," said Happy, whose real name is William J. Cobb.

The Atlanta Constitution told in a copyrighted story today how Cobb, 39, had suffered a heart attack in 1962 while wrestling under the name Happy Humphrey.

A physician in his hometown, Macon, Ga., told him to reduce.

Cobb managed to get his weight down to 644 pounds before becoming a volunteer patient in June, 1963, at the Medical College of Georgia's Clinical Investigation Unit.

Dr. Wayne V. Greenberg was conducting a research project to determine which diets are most effective and whether it is better to nibble all day or take your calories in one dose.

Cobb lived at the hospital under precisely controlled conditions until last April, when his weight had dropped to 227 pounds.

During his stay Cobb never ate less than 1,000 calories a day. He dieted in 56-day cycles.

For 28 days he was given three meals a day and a bedtime snack, with the same food served every meal. For the next 28 days he ate the same food but all at one meal.

Three diets were alternated in cycles, one mostly fats, another mostly carbohydrates and the third predominately protein.

Dr. Greenberg said final data had not been compiled but the protein diet seemed most effective. While on that diet, Cobb ate ground beef twice a day.

He weighs 230 pounds and says he can't recall not being fat.

"When I was born, I weighed 18 pounds," said Cobb. "Later I wore a bedsheet for a diaper. When I was 12 years old, I weighed 300 pounds.

"Eating to me was like drinking is to some people. I couldn't stop. My grocery bill ran from $25 to $30 a day.

"I have eaten a 14-pound turkey with all the trimmings at one sitting," he said. "And I could put away 15 chickens at a time."

KILLED IN VIET NAM

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Friday Army Warrant Officer Donald R. Saegaert, 24, whose wife, Betty, lives at New Albany Ind., was killed in action in Viet Nam. He had been in the service six years and was scheduled to return home in November. Mrs. Saegaert, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Helen Hoffman, has two daughters.

Rights Count Brings Term

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — A Gary police detective, who was placed on probation three years ago for violating a suspect's civil rights, has been sentenced to six months in prison for an alleged second violation of rights.

Federal Judge George Beamer set the prison term Friday for William Kennedy, 47, and ordered him to surrender Tuesday to a U.S. marshal.

The revocation of probation hearing before Judge Beamer followed accusations Kennedy violated the civil rights of two Gary men by pistol whipping them after a dispute in a tavern. The detective was on duty at the time, Feb. 27.

In December, 1962, Kennedy received a six-month suspended sentence and was placed on probation 5 years for conviction of violating the civil rights of a man he was questioning about robberies.

WAGE WALKOUT

MADISON, Ind. (AP)—About 610 union machinists walked off their jobs at an engineering firm here over wage and fringe benefit differences. The 3-year contract between Local 1109 of the International Association of Machinists and the Reliance Electric and Engineering Co. reportedly expired Saturday. A union meeting was scheduled for this morning.

In 1933, the Blue Eagle was promulgated as the symbol of the National Industrial Recovery Act; it was ruled invalid in 1935.

Ten years ago — sixty persons were injured when demonstrators against the 1954 truce accords sacked two hotels in Saigon, Viet Nam.

Five years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower announced the federal budget showed a surplus of more than $1 billion in the fiscal year ended June 30.

One year ago — Eight persons were killed when a bus plunged off a cliff and into the ocean in Las Palmas, Canary Islands.

Skateboarders Set Off Alarm

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Police raced to a clothing store Sunday when the burglar alarm sounded, as it had done several times in recent weeks. As before, everything was serene, even to the youngsters skateboarding by.

Then police found the vibrations of the skateboards on the sidewalk set off the sensitive alarm.

Understanding Is Finding Everyone Likes Watermelon

By DION HENDERSON

PLATTEVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Sometimes understanding is just finding out that everybody likes watermelon.

That's the way it came, in simple things like picnics and pony rides and swimming, to 37 Negro children from Chicago's South Side. And, no less and no differently, to the residents of this small southwestern Wisconsin college community which still bears the stamp of the Cornishmen who came a century ago to dig in the area's lead mines.

The week long visit, which ended Saturday, was intended to do just that — give the urban children a glimpse of the world that lies beyond their familiar brick walls, and let the residents of this all-white community of some 7,000 peek through children's eyes at the life in the inner core. It wasn't strictly an exercise in what they still call Christian duty around here, although in truth that was mentioned too when the matter came up for discussion at the First Congregational Church, where one of three participating ministers, the Rev. Richard Charter, presides.

But proof of the pudding came when youngsters at the municipal swimming pool admired the tan of Louise Williams, 7, and at the wistful expression on the faces of Bernie Willkomm's own kids when Danny Merriweather, 10, was confronted by a lawn mower in the Willkomm front yard.

"What's that for?" asked Danny, who lives in a 16-family apartment building.

The Willkomm kids know, all right; they explained. You push it. And push it. And push it.

The visit started in the Congregational Church and soon enlisted the Rev. Robert Adams and the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Adams was quick to admit to what you might call selfish motives.

"We wanted to show the kids a good time, but most of all, we wanted to acquaint our relatively isolated people with people from urban areas."

Safety Costs By GM Cited

WASHINGTON (UPI) —General Motors Corp. estimates it spent $193 million last year on safety research and development programs for its cars.

Corporation officials who appeared before a Senate committee hearing on auto safety last Tuesday were unable to provide a breakdown of safety spending because they said it was interwoven with other programs.

However, on Saturday, GM estimated it spent $124 million in 1964 on automobile safety for its cars and trucks, while other activities bearing on safety research programs boosted the total to $193 million.

STALLS AFTERLIFE

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—A construction worker believed electrocuted Saturday surprised the emergency staff at Lutheran Hospital by asking "Where am I?" as he lay on the emergency table. Police had pronounced Lester Carey, 70, dead after he leaned against a boom crane which touched a power line. Carey proved very much alive and was reported in good condition with severe burns on both hands.

The Madison County Bar Assn. announces, Ronald K. Fowler, Attorney, in new location. 657 Citizens Bank Bldg.

TWELVE FAIL PHYSICALLY

Ten soldiers who left Anderson last week with the local Madison county Company M to go into training at the State Fair grounds at Indianapolis were selected yesterday to help fill up the Battery D of Artillery. They were givengiven the opportunity, by Captain McKinney, to volunteer for transfer to the artillery service. . It is understood that the men may leave soon for France, where they will be given about ten months training before going into battle.

The recruiting tent, in charge of First Lieutenant Murray and his assistant Corporal Click, of Company M, Fourth Regiment, has been moved from Riverside park to a location on the lawn on the south side of the court house square. They have been busy securing recruits for the infantry company and the following men have been signed up and ordered to report to Indianapolis for examination: Elwood J. Kisker, Albert R. Twelve of Company M men failed to pass the physical examinations and they are to be discharged from the company and with ten of the men were transferred to Battery D the company membership is brought down to about seventy-eight men. Among those who were rejected are the following: Wm. P. Siddall, Horace Thornburgh, George W. Cook, John Smith, Herman Witaker and Robert L. Isanogle.

Few Knew of Camp Mates Family Affair to Outfit Soldiers for Their Home Visit

RETURNED LAST NIGHT

Surrounded by Relatives and Friends. First of Drafted Men to Leave Tomorrow.

After spending a happy day in Anderson, Company M left for Fort Benjamin Harrison last night at 9:15, accompanied by the Fourth Regiment band. The Anderson company arrived in Anderson early yesterday morning and soon scattered to their respective homes. All of the had dinner with the folks and returned up town in time to fall in line for the parade.

Camp Mates Loaned Outfits.

While many persons who viewed yesterday's parade remarked on the fine, soldierly appearance of the local guards, many, also, did not know of the "family affair" which was held at the Fort getting ready for today's celebration. Company M's uniforms had not arrived and borrowing was done among the other companies of the Fourth. Hats were too big, too small, pants didn't fit, shirts were tight, a hundred and one things were the matter. Most of the fellows were busy until 3 a. m. on Monday morning getting uniforms to fit them, either having to take them up or let them out or trading with some. Members of other companies of the Fourth, however, were very glad to lend a helping hand to the local boys. But taken all in all, Company M showed up well and they showed rapid progress in drilling.

Many hundreds of persons remained up town last night until the departure of Company M and the Fourth's band. One motor car and two trailers, specials, hauled the men back to the Fort. Many relatives again shed tears last night when Company M left, but also many smiles were seen, singing, handclapping, yelling and singing also occupied part of the time. Yep! Yesterday was a big day.

Drafted Men Start Wednesday.

Harry G. Neff, Michael Paul Miller, William R. Huffman, Ora Ernest Bartlow and Jason Porter are the first to leave for the national army training at Camp Taylor, and they leave Wednesday. From now on some of the drafted men will leave nearly every day.

Named Audit Chairman For 1969-70 UF Drive

Charles Chastain, an active worker and leader in the Madison County United Fund for the last 10 years and its forerunner the Anderson Community Chest for many more years, will serve as chairman of the audit committee in the 11th appeal this fall.

He is a past president of the Rotary Club, member of the Chamber of Commerce and manager of the certified public accounting firm, Chastain, Dus and Thomas.

Chastain served as chairman of the audit committee for the $1,250,000 St. John's Hickey Memorial Hospital appeal in 1966 and formerly was chairman of the finance committee for the YWCA building funds appeal in that drive.

The UF kickoff has been set for Sept. 30.

William Joseph Hertel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William George Hertel, was discovered missing by his mother around 2 p.m. Tuesday. A search began immediately at the Hertel farm near this Warrick County community.

Abatement Plea Delays Arraignment On IU Arson Charge

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—A plea in abatement Wednesday blocked the scheduled arraignment of Charles E. Sweet, 28, charged with arson in two fires that caused more than $1 million damage to Indiana University's old graduate library.

William Radzwill, attorney for Sweet, asked Monroe Circuit Court Judge Nat U. Hill to reject testimony given at a probable cause hearing June 26.

Radzwill contended testimony of Larry Ikerd, state police detective, and Charles Hill, investigator for the state fire marshal, was based on opinion and hearsay and was not true.

The prosecution must answer the plea before another arraignment date can be set.

LAPEL — The annual Homecoming Festival at Lapel, sponsored by the Lion's Club, will open today. Highlighting this evening's activities will be the coronation of the Homecoming Queen who will reign over the three-day festival.

Saturday's events will include a parade, featuring the Homecoming Queen and her court, the Lapel High School Marching Band, and a Pet Parade. The parade will come down the Main Street of the town beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Festival headquarters will be the Lion's Community Building and grounds. Free entertainment, commercial booths and rides besides activities sponsored by local clubs will figure in each evening's events.

Local Air Controls Needed

Local governments should begin setting up their own standards of clean air controls instead of having the state operate the program, a state air pollution official told city and county officials Wednesday.

A prime advantage of locally run air pollution agencies, according to Perry Miller, technical secretary of the State Air Pollution Control Board, is that communities may apply for federal aid to manage such projects.

The state, he said, receives only a single amount to maintain statewide air pollution control.

A control system to meet Madison County's needs should be locally run, Miller pointed out.

Miller mapped out a plan for an agency that would be run jointly by both the city and county.

Federal funds would be allocated on a three-to-one basis, he said, adding if Anderson and the county agreed to use $15,000 for air pollution control systems, Washington would give another $45,000 to the local agency.

Though the state plans to set up air pollution control projects, Miller said, local agencies can operate a clean air system more effectively and cheaply.

SANCTIONS ASKED

TELAVIN (AP) — Israeli (AP) — Lebanon asked the Security Council Wednesday to impose sanctions against Israel for its attack Monday on four villages where the Lebanese claim four civilians were killed and three seriously wounded.

Charles Lindberg with Wednesday's parade.

A few also wondered what feat would be necessary to occasion a greater celebration.

From this writer's vantage point in a Coffee Shop at Grand Central Station, the parade itself was in view for little more than a minute.

Following the crowd to the U. N. ceremonies was no more successful.

More than two blocks away as U Thant paid tribute on behalf of the world's nations, all movement was stopped by thronging crowds of "lunarniks."

But even those who caught only a momentary glimpse of Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins refused to be disappointed.

And the gala atmosphere carried its own contagion to those who saw nothing at all.

Two women, late-comers to the U.N. area, asked the returning crowd, "Have they left?"

On learning the moon trio was on its way to the airport, the questioners appeared slightly relieved — knowing they could enjoy the rest of a free afternoon and still watch television's replay that night.

For hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers, the event was a legitimate excuse to take a busman's holiday from their daily routine.

The "In" thing was to leave the confetti in your hair, empty a wastebasket out of a 20th story window, try to get a photo of the Apollo crew, and stay away from work as long as possible.

New York City, noted for its "people-watching," seemed to have collected a week's rush-hour crowd crammed into the parade route area.

In spite of Mayor Lindsay's request that employers allow their staffs to participate in at least part of the day's events, several thousand New Yorkers apparently did not make it.

Streets several blocks from the parade route were littered with confetti, attesting to the fact that those office workers who could not watch still wanted to do their part.

Not to be outdone, Gotham City's newspapers also joined in the lunar madness. The Daily News, which featured full-page color photos of the astronauts on page one, and of their wives on the back page, welcomed the Apollo 11 crew with large headlines proclaiming: "NEIL, BUZZ, MIKE, TOWN IS YOURS."

New York Police also seemed to enjoy a peaceful demonstration for a change. Mounted on horses at strategic intersections and backing up wooden blockades, they carried on running jokes with the spectators.

As Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins departed for more ceremonies in Chicago and Los Angeles Wednesday afternoon and night, "the spirt of Apollo 11" remained in New York.

True, the street cleaning crews will be busy the rest of this week. But it's not everyday that New York welcomes men from the moon.

wheel and damaging one of the wings.

The plane, traveling at 120 mph from Camp Perry near Toledo, developed minor engine trouble near here. Not sure they would reach Ft. Harrison, the two decided to land at Anderson and spend the night.

Circling over the city several times, the pilot picked Athletic Park as a good place to land thinking there would be no obstructions on a baseball feild. The place skimmed over the inner fence of the race track at the north turn. The first hint the two men had that anything was wrong came when the plane hit the wire and poles.

After requesting men to guard the machine, Parsons and Ott left for Ft. Harrison via interurban car.

Bridge Construction

Construction was begun on May 25, 1920, for the Ninth Street span across White River. Work was completed Aug. 12, 1921.

The total cost for construction was $126,000 as opposed to about $850,000 costs for the new Eisenhower Memorial Bridge, planned for two-lane traffic in the fall.

The Ninth Street structure was floored with paving brick with wide sidewalks of cement. The surface was covered with asphalt and binder for the brick that cost five cents each.

The asphalt was worked into crevice between the brick and a layer of sand followed.

The breaking up of a cement pavement for nearly a block by means of dynamite and a large fill at the bridge made it a costly piece of work, between $5,000 and $6,000.

Additions to the bridge were 12 standards bearing electric lamps with large white globes surmounting the balustrades. Each side had six lamps.

A long gradual slope into Athletic Park was also required since the grade near the bridge was about four feet above the level of the park.

Plans were made to request county commissioners to dredge the channel.

The construction work was done by Daniels and Lyst Construction Co.

"Magnificent Mile"—as the motorcade passed carrying the astronauts and their families.

At the Michigan Avenue Bridge Fire Department boats in the Chicago River shot streams of red, blue and green water more than 100 feet in the air. A light breeze carried some of the spray into the parade cars.

Fireworks popped overhead, while paper streamers were strung from the 25th floor of a building.

Restaurants and lounges emptied, workers crowded to the windows of the tall Loop buildings and spectators lined 10 deep as the motorcade swung over to State Street, the city's famous shopping district.

Turning northward on LaSalle Street, the city's financial center, the astronauts ran into a paper cloudburst while soprano to basso voices blended in a continuous cheer.

At the official welcoming ceremonies at the Civic Center the spacemen, along with Dr. Thomas Paine, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, were given medals symbolic of honorary citizenship of Chicago by Mayor Richard J. Daley.

New Yorkers gave their largest, loudest and proudest welcome Wednesday to America's men from the moon.

"I have never been so moved by a welcome," Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. said. "It was even more exciting than some parts of our mission."

From the start of the traditional tickertape parade—at the spot where Peter Minuit bought Manhattan Island from the Indians—to City Hall and the United Nations and back along miles of Queens Boulevard to John F. Kennedy International Airport, an estimated two million people cheered the Apollo 11 astronauts.

"It was overwhelming," Mayor John V. Lindsay said. "It was the biggest tickertape parade in New York City's history."

It was like a snow-storm in August with tons of tickertape, confetti, shredded newspaper and computer punch cards showering down on astronauts Aldrin, Neil A. Armstrong and Michael Collins. Balloons floated overhead and fireworks exploded at City Hall.

Fireboats in New York harbor sent jets of water shooting into the air as the astronauts set down at the Wall Street heliport from the airport. Sirens screamed, horns honked and bands played.

The tickertape parade took the astronauts up Broadway—renamed "Apollo Way" — through the financial district where tens of thousands turned out in 1927 to welcome Charles A. Lindberg from his "lone eagle" flight, to cheer Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on his return from World War II and Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur on his recall from Korea.

There were speeches by Lindsay, U.N. Secretary General Thant and by the astronauts themselves.

The mayor placed the gold medal of the city of New York hung from ribbons around the neck of each man at City Hall. More than 10,000 persons cheered the ceremonies.

A Prayer

Give us, Lord, a bit o'sun,
A bit o' work and a bit o' fun,
Give us in all the struggle and sputter,
Our daily bread and a bit o' butter,
Give us health our keep to make
And a bit to spare for other's sake
Give us, too, a bit of song,
And a tale and a book to help us along,
Give us, Lord, a chance to be
Our goodly best, brave, wise, and free,
Our goodly best for ourselves and others
Till all men learn to live as brothers.

The film is a look at present-day Delawares, as well as their passage into the 21st century. The documentary follows the descendants of Chief Anderson, for whom Anderson is named. Several descendants will be in attendance at the film presentation. The Madison County Historical Society will be selling VHS tapes of "The Long Journey Home" at the viewing.

25 Years Ago - 1989

Sept. 8 – Officials announced development of a 184-acre industrial park at Interstate 69 and Indiana 9 and anticipate the area – an original "gateway" to the city – will become the site of major industrial sprawl. Announcement of the new industrial park was made by the Anderson Corporation for Economic Development. Charles Riedel, president of ACED's board of directors, said a private group purchased 59 acres of land near the interchange from the family of the late Walter Bagot, and has purchased rights to 125 more acres.

Sept. 8 – None of the A-Team members were wearing "radzimer," but they sure knew how to spell it. The A-Team, sponsored by Delco Remy/UAW Local 662, was victorious in Thursday night's first annual Bee for Literacy, co-sponsored by the Madison County Literacy Coalition and The Anderson Herald Bulletin. More than 300 eople packed the Anderson City Hall to upport their favorite teams. The $109 ntry fee from each of the 25 teams bene- ts the Madison County Literacy Coalition, which matches volunteer reading tutors with individuals needing assistance.

50 Years Ago - 1964

Sept. 11 – The annual Farm-City Banquet, held through the cooperation of the Madison County Farm Bureau and the Agriculture Committee of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce, will be Oct. 14 at the YMCA. The banquet, which attracts hundreds of Madison County farmers along with a large number of local business and industrial men, will feature speaker Dr. Don Paarlberg of Purdue University.

Sept. 13 – Anderson will receive one of two National Awards of Excellence for vehicle safety with a check to be presented on Sept. 29 at the Governor's Traffic Safety Conference. Chief of Police Doyle Wright said one of his officers from the traffic division will be on hand to accept the award.

100 Years Ago - 1914

Sept. 8 – About 75 people gathered at Riverside park yesterday and heard talks by W.W. Farmer, C.A. Lions and others interested in the opening of a cooperative market house in Anderson. About 25 signed up for stock in the company. The capital stock of the company, at $10,000, is now assured and a meeting to elect officers will be held at the courthouse. A location for the uptown store will probably be decided at this meeting.

Sept. 11 – Elery Boone, 40, constable, of Lynn, Ind., was arrested last night by Patrolmen McFarland and Swinford on the charge of intoxication. A .22-caliber revolver and a pair of handcuffs were found in his pockets. Boone has been in Anderson searching for his wife, who he alleges ran off with another man and came to Anderson. Boone complained that the police would not arrest the parties for him but insisted that he go to jail instead.

LEWIS SWINFORD IS FOUND DEAD

(Dec Tuesday 20 1939)

Lewis Swinford, age 65, former Anderson policeman, was found dead today near his home, one-half mile north of Chesterfield, where it is believed he had suffered a heart attack on Saturday. He had been a timekeeper on a lake project near Chesterfield, and it was near his house where he died. The body was discovered today by a neighbor. Coroner Robert L. Armington and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Rich were called to investigate.

A native of Tipton county, Mr. Swinford moved to Shelby county with his parents when he was a child. He came to this city, years ago where he had resided since. During the administration of Mayor Frank Foster, Swinford was a member of the police force. Since then he had been employed at the Ames Shovel Works and had been engaged in farming.

The body was removed to the Brown and Eckenberg funeral home, where private services will be conducted Wednesday at 10 a. m. Burial will follow in Huntsville Cemetery.

Surviving are a son, Everett Swinford, of Nebraska, Ind., seven grandchildren, and a brother, George Swinford, living on R. F. D. 3.

Law enforcement was once frontier justice

By BILL LEAHY
H-B Staff Writer

Prior to statehood in 1816, law enforcement in what is now Anderson and Madison County was a function of frontier justice.

Until 1822, when the county was incorporated by the state Legislature, there was no local peace officer with official credentials. Samuel Cory became the first county sheriff on Nov. 10, 1823.

Up to this time Anderson, or Andersontown as it was originally known, was more of a riverside encampment turning into a village than a municipality. In fact, the total population in 1830 numbered only 150 people.

Despite that, on land donated by John Berry for such a purpose, Andersontown became the county seat.

A 16-by-16-foot county jail was erected out of hewed logs on a public square near where the present courthouse stands.

The building was one and one-half stories high, accessible by an outside stairway. Prisoners were kept in the lower level, placed in custody by way of a trap door in the floor of the second story.

During the summer of 1837 the grandiose plans for a Central Canal swept the state. Anderson was to be one of the primary locations along the canalway. The following year the village petitioned the state Legislature for town status.

Alfred Makepeace was elected the first town constable.

Anderson's poopulation began to grow in the 1860s, and by 1870 3,126 residents were counted. In the interim Anderson became incorporated as a city. That happened Aug. 28, 1865.

With incorporation as a city there were elections for mayor, clerk, treasurer and marshal. And, M.N, Harriman became the first elected city marshal.

In 1879 the city passed Ordinance 203. This set out a written penal code that defined misdemeanor offenses, with fines "not to exceed" a specific amount.

Intoxication, assault and battery, carrying a concealed weapon and frequenting a common nuisance were.among the offenses listed. Fines established for these ranged from $10 to $50.

Also included were the offenses described as: Wandering prostitute, $10 fine; associating with a prostitute, $10 fine; keeping or recruiting for a house of ill fame, $25 to $50 fine; visiting a house of ill fame, $10 fine.

Gambling and confidence games could net the offender a $10 fine. And, in the realm of public decency there was a $10 fine for public indecency, and another $10 fine for anyone over the age of 12 seen bathing in White River during daylight hours.

By 1880 the city's population exceeded 4,000 people. That August Ordinance 209 was passed. It prescribed that: ". . . the police force of the city shall consist of a marshal, a deputy marshal and not more than six patrolmen . . ."

The ordinance also provided for merchant police, private watchmen and such extra police as may from time to time be appointed. All were to be reglated by a board of police.

Patrolmen were to receive a salary of $30 per month, plus $1 for each arrest. The dollar was to be paid from a tax exacted against any person

Good to hear from you. I sent the pictures of the trunk in yesterday's mail. I couldn't get the attachment. I need a reader program I guess. I have acrobat 5, Would love to see the picture you have I'll get mine out to you. Will send disc so you can enlarge portions. That was the easiest for me to show the older people. (like I'm not one-- Ha) The size of the picture is not the same as you mentioned. It would be wonderful if they were not alike. We think the date on this picture is 1912 approx due to the size on my uncle held in his dad's arms. There is a lot of Swinford info in the MCKay MCCarty book compiled by Mr Limpus His mother was a McCarty descendant . Three of the Swinford men married McCarty women. I believe he is from New Boston , Texas. There are a few errors on the information for our immediate branch but I have found most of his documentation to be well researched. Hope to see you soon. Mother will be delighted to visit with you about the Swinford's she has known. James Alberts daughter Bertha -m- Vier Pettigrew-- Have had lots of contact with this family over the years. Mother grew up with and remembers several of the other children too. More Later- Karen

July 16 — A circuit court jury yesterday acquitted Clark McKinley, who was charged with shooting with intent to kill Charles Carroll. McKinley recently filled Carroll's legs with buckshot when he observed Carroll prowling about the home of McKinley's former wife while McKinley was at her home to assist in caring for their sick child. Carroll flashed a lantern into the window of Mrs. McKinley's home and then stood near a doorway when McKinley shot him.

July 19 — The police board has ordered the discontinuance of all dice games in saloons and cigar stores. The order went into effect last evening and the police were told to enforce the law to that effect rigidly. It has been the custom in cigar stores and other business houses the past few years to shake the dice box for prizes, merchandise, etc.

The Herald's Historical Highlights

Saturday, March 5, 1927

MORE THAN 5,000 FANS packed the Anderson High School gym to watch Pendleton overcome Summitville 29-10 and the AHS Indians scalp Frankton 45-15 in the opening games of the sectional tournament.

DELCO-REMY PRODUCTION during February, 1927, was greater than any previous month's output in history, according to C.E. Wilson, general manager.

CHIEF OF POLICE Elmer Nighbert ordered each Anderson police officer to "bring in at least one bootlegger every month. Thirty officers can bring in one liquor vendor a day and make the city dry in a few weeks. A bootlegger a day will keep booze away," said the articulate chief.

BUDGET-MINDED SHOPPERS hurried to an Anderson dry goods store which advertised a special one-day sale of "slightly imperfect and soiled frocks." The cost? 99 cents and $1.99.

Dear Karen

I got those pictures and I was tickled to get them. I told Pauline just a few days before I got them that I wondered if you had them yet.

That baby looks just like you did at that age. She sure is a cuty and so is Christi. You sure have 2 sweet girls.

I like to see them but I dont get any place. No buss out this way so I go when some one takes me. I love to see the kids in Pendleton but its the same thing again. I wish they would stop some time when they go bowling I dont see your Mom unless its something going on. Well thats life I guess. Ha Pauline and Jack + Jackie Sue are going to Minnesota next week. I dont suppose Ill go though I am not sure yet.

Thanks again for the pictures Ive have Christi's in a frame and Im going to get another one for Kennie I am sure proud of them

Love from Grandma
Jennie

A death has occurred and everything is changed by this event. We are painfully aware that life can never be the same again, that yesterday is over, that relationships once rich have ended. But there is another way to look upon this truth. If life went on the same without the presence of the one who has died, we could only conclude that the life we here celebrate made no contribution, filled no space, meant nothing. The fact that this individual left behind a place that cannot be filled is a high tribute to this individual. Life can be the same after a trinket has been lost, but never after the loss of a treasure.

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul;
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness
for His names sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley
of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil,
for thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me
in the presence of mine enemies;
Thou anointest my head with oil; My cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life;
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

"Be careful, it's loaded," Harmon said when Lou Hiner Jr., Washington correspondent for the Indianapolis News, reached for the gun to examine it.

Secretary Velma Hulett gasped when she saw the gun, but Harmon assured her: "It's all right. It's on safety."

Harmon said congressmen have been allowed to carry guns without permits "since that time those people (Puerto Rican fanatics) shot up Congress."

He declined to say whether he carries the gun to and from House sessions, adding: "I don't think that's anybody's business but mine. I never owned a gun in my life, but I can handle one."

Never too old to ace

Late starter Swinford doubles his pleasure

Dallas Swinford used to walk his dog by Idlewold Golf Course and look with wonderment at the garishly dressed men chasing a small ball with their clubs and wonder, "What do they get out of that?"

Finally, about the time he retired from Delco Remy at age 60, a friend got him started on golf.

"I wanted to play every day," Swinford said of his new hobby.

Now he only gets out a couple of times a week.

But a few weeks ago, the day before his 85th birthday, the "new" golfer struck his second hole-in-one, on the 16th hole at Arrowhead Golf Course, north of Greenfield in Hancock County.

"It just made two little hops and in the hole she went," Swinford said.

It was the second time he'd aced a hole; about 15 years ago, he plunked one in at Brockway Golf Course in Lapel on what used to be hole No. 1 and now is No. 5.

His witness and regular playing partner, 72-year-old Ted Wainscott, does not recall scores from that day, but admitted, "we don't shoot our age."

Swinford, who still has the ball from his original ace, doesn't seem to mind that he can no longer play bogey golf, as he once did.

"At 85, I'm lucky to be out there," he said.

The HERALD-BULLETIN/ SALVATION ARMY ·Santa Fund·

The Salvation Army expects to help up to 1,800 Madison County families have a merrier Christmas through the 1987 Herald-Bulletin's Santa Fund.

This year's fund, with a campaign goal of $140,000, is targeted to help every needy family in the county. It is the first year the campaign is going countywide.

In early November, the organization sent letters to past donors. In the past, it had sent follow-up letters, but in a cost-cutting move, the group discontinued the practice this year. The group, with the motto, "Sharing is Caring," has sent out 10,000 prospect letters to individuals and 1,000 letters to businesses asking for their support in helping those who aren't as fortunate.

Donations to the Santa Fund may be sent to: Herald-Bulletin Santa Fund, P.O. Box 678, Anderson 46015. Each day through Christmas the Herald-Bulletin will publish names of donors.

A death has occurred and everything is changed by this event. We are painfully aware that life can never be the same again, that yesterday is over, that relationships once rich have ended. But there is another way to look upon this truth. If life went on the same without the presence of the one who has died, we could only conclude that the life we here celebrate made no contribution, filled no space, meant nothing. The fact that this individual left behind a place that cannot be filled is a high tribute to this individual. Life can be the same after a trinket has been lost, but never after the loss of a treasure.

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul;
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness
for His names sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley
of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil,
for thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me
in the presence of mine enemies;
Thou aointest my head with oil; My cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life;
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

A death has occurred and everything is changed by this event. We are painfully aware that life can never be the same again that yesterday is over that relationships once rich have ended. But there is another way to look upon this truth. If life went on the same without the presence of the one who has died, we could only conclude that the life we here celebrate made no contribution, filled no space, meant nothing. The fact that this individual left behind a place that cannot be filled is a high tribute to this individual. Life can be the same after a trinket has been lost, but never after the loss of a treasure.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and
thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; Thy rod and
thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

States. There's too much going on in different countries. I've never been to the east coast of the United States, so I would like to go to New York, Pennsylvania, somewhere up in there.

If you won a $1 million lottery, how would you spend the money?

The first thing I'd do is help out other people and my family. I have a brother on disability, and I have friends on disability. I would buy what they need. Otherwise, I don't think I would have any changes.

In your lifetime, which decade do you like the most?

The '50s because I was young and growing up. It was nice. Pendleton hadn't changed then. We could leave our doors unlocked.

What's something about you most people don't know?

I'll be married 50 years in April. A lot of people don't realize that. Those kind of marriages don't happen that often anymore. My husband, Dick, and I grew up together.

What's your favorite childhood board game?

Monopoly and Canasta, a card game. Monopoly was fun. You could play from two people to four people. It was educational because you could use money, buy property and sell it.

Which teacher in school was most inspirational to you?

Ms. Borden was my fourth-grade teacher. It was called Pendleton Grade School then. She was friendly and nice. She would always help you. She just stood out to me.

but the laptop was gone.

According to the complaint, once they failed to sell the video to the media, Moses and Wortman called Marc Anthony Productions and tried to sell it back to the salsa star.

An NYPD detective posing as an Anthony associate engaged in a series of negotiations with Moses and Wortman between Dec. 20 and Dec. 27, during which the men demanded $1 million for the laptop, the complaint said.

At one point the detective refused the $1 million demand and Wortman threatened to destroy it, the complaint said.

Moses and Wortman were arrested in a sting Tuesday when they allegedly met with police to sell the laptop for a lesser amount.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) – A mutual interest may unexpectedly serve as a bonding agent today that'll draw you closer to someone you've known only casually. Soon, however, you could become inseparable friends.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) – An opportunity may be dropped in your lap today that could enable you to do something about increasing your holdings. The only hitch is you're going to have to act on it without delay.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters,
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness
for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of
the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

SEASON'S
GREETINGS

* * *

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Swinford, 312 Thirty-second street, Offutt Park, will be one year old December 25, 1950. That's one way of saying he was born this Christmas day, up at Fayette Memorial Hospital. And, unless we've been misinformed, he was the only Christmas baby at the hospital this year. There were plenty right before and right after, but only one on Sunday.

Fill not your heart with pain and sorrow
But remember me in every tomorrow...

REMEMBER THE Joy,

THE Laughter,

Afterglow

I'd like the memory of me
to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles
when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering
softly down the ways.
Of happy times and laughing times
and bright sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve,
to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave
when life is done.

Dear Aunt Faye,

Wishing you a new year filled with beautiful moments.

With all we've lost, moments are all we ask for.

Love,
Carol

I hope by this time that you can enjoy moments and the memories that are special without the deep sadness. It can bring a small amount of contentment. I finally had to take a break to do a few things I want to do. I had such a short trip at Christmas and so much work when I got back, that I was so tired! This weekend is mine. We had a devil of a snow storm the night of the 2nd into the 3rd.
6 to 10 inches. I went to work any way, but they cancelled almost everything those 2 days. Out here they have to because they don't know how to drive in it! How are you? And your family? Dad probably told you that I sold the house. I didn't want to, but I just could not keep imposing on my friends.
What worries me is having so much time on my hands when work slows down. It took all my energy to keep up with it. I'm still at the "in between" apt. Just cannot get the painter to do it correctly let alone the carpet people. I'm still not sure about living on the 10th floor, but the view of the Bay is spectacular. As soon as I get settled with a phone, I will call and check up on you. Family is very important to me and I'm not into loosing anyone else.

Take care and find a way to make your happy moments.

Love,
Carol

In Memory

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake . . .
Yea, though I walk through the valley of
the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over . . . Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever . . .

Dr.

I had made arrangements to stay the week end and help get things organized, but my Father is not going to listen or cooperate with me. He did respond favorably to being home.

Some notes to try and help.
1. He will tell you what you want to hear not how it really is or will be.
2. Mary (wife) has an extremely bad back. She is in pain most of the time. She is on medication and between the pain and so on she will give in rather than fight my Father.
3. He has no intention of following a diet or exercise plan. He wants to be "waited on hand and foot" and Mary can no longer do that.
4. He figures he will die before the time dialysis runs out. (He knew of someone that was on it 5 years). Or he will die of heart problems before that.
5. He does have ? carotid ? artery problems. We were told some years ago that he would have a stroke or whatever / not if.

I am staying Friday to make sure Home Health Care is arranged.

My brother and I tried many many times, but he will no longer respond to us.

You can reach me at work 757-855-2026, cell 757-581-0287 and home 757-363-5888.

I feel like I failed, but I cannot stand by without causing a yelling match.

Sincerely,

Carol J. Cirillo

awaiting at the Mariott Marquis on Times Square.

Sloan is hopeful Letterman, a Ball State University graduate, will make a big deal out of the date since it originated in his old stomping grounds of Muncie. The New York trip also gives the bachelor an opportunity to visit his brother and new nephew.

"It is a great cause. I wanted to be different," Sloan said of his involvement in the March of Dimes bachelor bid. "Absolutely," he said to future participation.

Twenty-five bachelors, including a number with Anderson-area ties, were placed on the auction block.

Twenty-nine-year-old Randy Good was sold for $225. Good, owner and president of Good's Donuts with three locations including Anderson, will treat his date to dinner at Chante Clair and comedy at Crackers nightclub, both in Indianapolis.

"I've enjoyed it. It is a very professional operation. I would guess they are going to raise an enormous amount of money. It goes to an excellent cause," Good said.

The local March of Dimes chapter, which serves a 13-county area including Madison County, raised more than $8,000 through the Bid for Bachelors. Another auction is scheduled for mid-November in Marion, Executive Director Janet Swank said.

Many of Wednesday night's bachelors have volunteered to participate again, Swank said.

"I would do it again. I think it was a lot of fun," said Roland Walker, a 43-year-old, blue-eyed, brown-haired man. The Magnequench tool maker, whose date package included a trip to French Lick Springs Resort, went for $260. "I did it for the excitement of it," he said.

Roland and his date will double tall.

Peter Granger, 45, five feet 11 inches, was no cheap date, going for $400. "I never dreamed I'd get that much money," the Magnequench employee said.

Granger will take his winning bidder on a tour at the Indianapolis Museum of Art, to dinner at the Common Market Restaurant on Indy's circle and then dancing at Union Station nightclubs.

Bachelors raise big bucks for March of Dimes

By REBECCA SNELLING
H-B staff writer

Going, going, gone.

Sold to the lady over in the corner for $625.

No, the item being auctioned was not a piece of furniture or property for profit. Men were the sale objects Wednesday night at the Muncie Radisson Hotel, and the proceeds benefitted the East Central Indiana Chapter of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

". . . It goes to an excellent cause."

Yes, one bachelor actually sold for $625. Tony Sloan, president of Freeman Planning & Design Inc., an economic development consulting firm in Richmond, brought the highest price tag.

Not only was the 28-year-old, 5-foot-11-inch, blue-eyed blonde package an enticing draw but his date package was intriguing as well. Sloan is providing the winning bidder a first-class flight to New York City. Shopping, dining and a Broadway show will follow.

And, as if that weren't enough, Sloan and his date will sit in on a taping of The Guiding Light, a soap opera in which his brother appeared last year. That night they will be guests in the audience of the David Letterman show with overnight accommodations awaiting at the Mariott Marquis on Times Square.

"I never dreamed I'd get that much money."

Sloan is hopeful Letterman, a Ball State University graduate, will make a big deal out of the date since it originated in his old stomping grounds of Muncie. The New York trip also gives the bachelor an opportunity to visit his brother and new nephew.

Roland and his date will double with Carl Downs, a Delco Remy employee, and his winning bidder. The 43-year-old, six-foot-four-inch Downs sold for $250.

"It is for a good cause, the March of Dimes," Downs said. Of his winning bidder, Jayne Ballard of Muncie, the bachelor said, "She's a beautiful date. I am looking forward to it."

Jim Johnson, a disc jockey at WAXT/WHBU radio locally, set a precedent with the first exceptionaly high bid of the night. The 26-year-old, six-foot-one-inch bachelor brought in $420 for his date package to Beef and Boards Dinner Theater and nightspot hopping in Indianapolis.

Johnson worked for the money, bopping into the audience several times and kissing women everywhere. "March of Dimes is a great thing. I'd do almost anything for charity," he said.

Another bachelor and WAXT weekend disk jockey, Michael Beach, and his date will double with the Johnson couple. Beach, who was sold early in the show, went for $75.

"We thought it would be a good idea. We knew it was going to a good cause. It's (the date) going to fun," said Beach, who is 23 years old and five feet 10½ inches tall.

Peter Granger, 45, five feet 11 inches, was no cheap date, going for $400. "I never dreamed I'd get that much money," the Magnequench employee said.

Owner and pharmacist of East Side Drugs, Thomas Wilson, was sold for $175. The 47-year-old, five-foot-nine-inch bachelor will take his date to dinner at the Louisiana Street Restaurant and Bar in Indy then to an Indianapolis Civic Theater play, followed by a carriage ride downtown.

Summing up the evening, Wilson said, "It's a charitable cause. I had a good time."

Somewhat on a sombering note, Granger said, "I have a cousin who died of a birth defect, and I thought it would be a good cause to give my time to."

Enthusiastic crowd watches as women buy their dream dates for charity

By DEBORAH LUCAS
H-B staff writer

Most people donate to charity with a willing heart, but Wednesday's 'Bid for Bachelors' brought out perhaps the most enthusiastic giving in recent history.

The fund-raiser for the March of Dimes drew some 200 area women, 100 of whom bid on date packages with the 25 eligible men. The event raised more than $8,000 with winning bids ranging from $50 to $625.

Whether they came to bid or just to watch, the assembled women caught the spirit of giving by clapping, tooting horns, whistling, cheering and spending.

The high bid of the evening, $625, was placed by Kathy Bell, 25, of Anderson. The advertising sales representative at WLBC-Radio won a weekend in New York City with Tony Sloan, 28, president of Economic Development Consulting in Muncie.

"I had absolutely not planned to bid," Bell said. "It (the trip) sounds like a ball. It sounded like the most fun thing there was, so if you're going to do it, why not do the best thing of all."

Those who bid were encouraged by friends. Many women offered to loan their friends money to top the last bid on their "dream date."

Perhaps the best example of this spirit of giving was evidenced by Barb, 29, who declined to give her last name, of Union City, Ohio. She won a date with WAXT disc jockey Michael Beach for $75.

Since Beach's bachelor package was a double date with fellow disc jockey Jim Johnson, Barb paid the $420 bid price for Johnson so her friend, Lisa Overholser, 25, also of Union City, could accompany her on the double date.

"I couldn't see Michael going for only $50, so I bid $75," Barb said. "I knew Jim was going along, and I couldn't go with someone I didn't know, so I talked Lisa into bidding.

"This is going to be Lisa's Christmas present for the rest of her life," Barb said. "I'm going to take pictures on the date, and every year at Christmas I'll send her one and say, 'remember when?'"

Sandra Boyer, a registered nurse at Community Hospital, donated $185 to the March of Dimes for an evening with Mike Fites, 42, a sales representative with National Nail Corporation.

"I noticed him during the reception and thought he had nice, kind eyes," Boyer said. "The package sounded like fun. I like to dance, and I think we will have a really good time."

Many of the people who participated in the fund-raiser said they felt the event was unique and provides a chance to meet new and interesting people while helping others through their donations.

"It was wonderful and a lot of fun," said Ardy Grubb, Alexandria.

Grubb, of Concentric Engineering Inc. of Anderson, came specifically to bid on her friend, Peter Granger, who she got for $400.

Grubb collected $175 from her and Granger's friends before the event to insure a good donation to the charity, although she was glad the bidding went no higher.

"I was hoping I wouldn't have to go any higher, but he's worth it and so is the March of Dimes," Grubb said.

)r. [Larry] Lawson did an iogram and found that I had blockage. Dr. Powers said because the heart attack had done so much damage, he wanted to put off the surgery until September to allow the heart to repair," Swinford said.

"But I had to come back in the hospital again, and he decided they had to do something immediately. I had surgery July 29 of '77." That was just 3 days after his 50th birthday.

"We've made tremendous advances in cardiology," Border said. "We've gone from treating patients by prescribing bed rest to taking measures to prevent heart attacks. New technology and drugs help us treat the condition before the heart suffers extensive damage."

Powers has also seen changes in open heart surgery. "We are using new surgical techniques, less use of blood products and are seeing more rapid recovery of our patients," Powers said.

Powers and his fellow surgeons have performed more than 2,500 open heart surgeries at the hospital since he helped start the program.

In Remembrance

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

God saw she was getting tired
And a cure was not to be.
So He put His arms around her
And whispered, "Come with Me".
With tearful eyes we watched her suffer
And saw her fade away.
Although we loved her dearly,
We could not make her stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.

HISTORY

Emge latest business site to disappear from landscape

Jim Bailey

As we speak another major plant is disappearing from the landscape of a city in the process of remaking itself.

The site on West Eighth Street for many years was occupied by Emge Packing Co. Its slogan, "Gimme Emge!," was a key advertising line for many years as plants in Anderson and Fort Branch pumped out meat products all over the Hoosier state.

The Anderson plant's history, though, predates its affiliation with the Emge family. Originally it was Hughes-Curry Packing Co. Then it was bought by Ike Duffey and produced Chief Anderson meat products.

Duffey brought wide recognition in the 1940s by organizing and sponsoring the Anderson Packers, one of the early National Basketball Association teams. He also had his hand in railroading, owning the Central Indiana Railroad.

But things changed. As pro basketball expanded, the industrially-sponsored teams went by the wayside. And Duffey eventually sold Chief Anderson Packing to Emge, which was at the top of its popularity. He continued to operate CIRR for a while, largely as a hobby.

Emge modernized and expanded the Anderson plant. But the meat-packing industry too was changing. By the 1990s both Emge plants, here and in Fort Branch, were in financial trouble. The Anderson location was closed and Fort Branch, where about 20 percent of the town was employed at Emge, was eventually sold to Excel.

The City of Anderson purchased the Emge property and has been using it as an equipment storage warehouse. On April 30 the wrecking ball began bringing down the landmark in preparation for another open field, much like those on Scatterfield Road and Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard.

So go the wheels of change in a community where people still recall with a good deal of nostalgia the landmarks and businesses of yesteryear. I've been reminded of a few more of late:

◆ The talk is that Nicholson File, off Columbus Avenue, will be the next to go. It was one of Anderson's big employers for many years but has been vacant, or largely so, for more than two decades.

◆ Remember Howe Fire Apparatus? For 66 years it supplied fire engines and other equipment but has been closed since 1978.

◆ Pierce Governor, located near the intersection of Ohio and Columbus avenues, also has been gone for decades. Most of it has been torn down, but I'm thinking the office part was what eventually became a video outlet (which is also gone).

◆ Tupman's Supermarket was one of the Super Six markets of the 1950s at Madison Avenue and West Eighth Street. It's now a harvest market, I believe.

◆ Marshall Barber Shop and Marshall Jewelry originally were located on the block that is now the site of the Anderson City Building. They moved to 33 East Ninth, then to the Odell building at 19th Street and Central Avenue. Now it too is vacant.

Jim Bailey's reflections on Anderson's past appear on Sunday. His regular column appears on Wednesday. He can be reached by email at jameshenrybailey@earthlink.net.

Emge Packing Co.

2000 West Eighth Street

Emge Packing Company has a history of 73 years in the meat packing business. Its first plant was established in 1900 in Fort Branch, Ind., and in 1949 Emge's purchased the Duffey plant in Anderson. The aerial view shows the scope of the Anderson plant which stretches from Eighth Street to White River. Employing 425 persons, Emge is an important economic plus for Anderson and a leading supplier of smoked meat, sliced bacon, cooked sausage, and fresh pork and beef in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, and other adjoining states.

Hughes established packing company

By Stephen T. Jackson
Madison County Historian

He was born during our country's Centennial observance and lived to witness its Bicentennial celebration.

Charles S. Hughes had seen and been a part of many changes in Anderson, the city he called home. Most notable of his accomplishments was his meat-packing business that had a meager beginning but became a well known fixture among Indiana businesses.

Born on a farm west of Summitville on March 24, 1876, Charles lived there with his parents until his father, who dealt in livestock, passed away when Charles was 5. He and his mother then went to live with her parents near Alexandria until he was 13. He then came to Anderson looking for work and lived with his sister on West Second Street until his marriage.

He first found employment at the American Strawboard plant on West First Street. After about a year, he went to work for Ames Shovel in North Anderson.

Leaving there he found work at a steel plate mill for a while and finally found his way to his brother James' grocery store on Third St. west of Delaware.

Here he worked for three or four years and during that time he became interested the market business. This interest led him to purchase the Eldorado Meat Market from Bill and Mike Graney in 1898. It was located on the west side of John Street just north of Nichol Avenue. For the first six months he had a partner, Jack Gallagher, but then Hughes acquired Gallagher's interest and became the sole owner.

Personal service

Hughes had borrowed $100 from the National Exchange Bank to purchase the market and soon added a wholesale route to his retail business and established a sausage plant in the Eldorado store. His products were delivered by wagon to dealers throughout the city.

He personally did the selecting, purchasing and killing of the cattle, hanging their carcasses in trees for dressing on the farms where he bought them.

In 1900, seeking a better operation for slaughter, Hughes built a frame slaughter house on West Eighth Street where the Conservation Club property is located today. Interestingly, a 1901 city map shows the pond that is there today. On the map it is marked "Ice Pond."

Prior to the Hughes acquisition, the property had been owned by William Morris who maintained the pond for fish. Hughes utilized the pond during the winter months by cutting and storing ice for meat preservation in his operations throughout the year.

In 1908, Hughes built a brick slaughter house and packing plant on an 11 acre site along White River and moved his sausage business there. The site was in the 2000 block of Eighth Street and extended to the river. The top floor was used for storage of ice cut from the river. It had the capacity to store 500 tons, which met their needs until mechanical refrigeration came along.

His business thrived, forcing him to increase his operations to keep up with the demand. He enlarged the plant two or three times between 1900 and 1911. In 1912, Hughes entered into a partnership with Charles E. Curry, and the famous Hughes-Curry Packing Company was born.

Chief Anderson Brand

The company, and its Chief Anderson Brand Meats, soon gained a reputation for high quality everywhere its products were sold. The plant was enlarged by adding wings in 1912, 1916 and 1918 as demand for the firm's products increased. The time had come to consider building a new facility.

Local businessmen Percey Doyle and Rex Kaufman, urged that capital stock of the company be increased to finance the expansion by the sale of $450,000 worth of preferred and common stock. The infusion of capital cleared the way for construction to begin.

Ground was broken in August of 1919 and the company was open for business in its new facilities in September of 1920, at 2000 West Eighth Street. A mere four years later, in 1924, the plant was doubled in size to accommodate the ever-expanding business.

Hoosier Markets

The Hughes-Curry operations had been keeping an eye on their competition throughout this time. Two other packing plants operated in Anderson. The Striker Brothers Abattoir (slaughterhouse) plant was next door at 1918 West Eighth Street, and the Anderson Dressed Beef Company was located on north Milton Avenue in Park Place adjacent to Athletic Park. The businesses were suffering financial difficulties and Hughes bought them both at receivers' sales.

In 1944, Hughes sold his meat packing business to Ike W. Duffy. Included in the sale were retail stores Hughes had established at Alexandria and Richmond in Indiana, and in Columbus, Springfield, Marion, and Piqua, Ohio.

In 1946, Hughes opened the Hoosier Market at 710 Jackson Street and repurchased his former retail firms. He continued to operate Hoosier Markets Inc. serving as president. Although Hughes later sold several of his markets, he joined other market owners to form a Food Town organization in Ohio. He later sold both his Anderson stores.

His former operations on West Eighth Street continued under Ike Duffy until they were sold to Emge in 1949. Emge operated the packing plant until closing the doors, Jan. 17, 1992.

Charles Hughes was certainly a dynamic individual and an asset to Anderson. His interest in livestock and meat continued for more than three-quarters of a century and his career was marked by numerous interesting and exciting incidents.

One such incident captures his spirit and tenacity quite well. During the 1913 flood when White River flowed into the Hughes-Curry plant, row boats were rowed into the cooler to take down carcasses of slaughtered animals.

Hughes got on a horse to ride out to the refrigeration plant and worked in deep water to elevate some of the equipment so that it would not be ruined in the water. He later remembered the water was ice cold and felt as if he was going to freeze to death, but the task was accomplished and his business was spared.

In retirement, Hughes continued to live in Anderson with his wife, Alberda "Peggy." They were the parents of five children. The couple spent the winters in their home in Sarasota, Florida, and it was there he passed away May 24, 1980, at the age of 104.

For more information visit the Madison County History Center, 15 W. 11th St., Anderson, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Phone: 683-0052.

MUNCIE — A Ball State University junior is one of only two recipients of a major national information technology scholarship.

Patrick Sager, a junior information systems major from Anderson, has received the Kevin Jetton Service Scholarship. The award is given annually to support students who are seeking an education in an accredited degree program related to information technology.

"The prestige that goes along with this scholarship means a great deal to me. And the recognition of being selected as one of only two recipients nationally is inspiring," said Sager. "I am very grateful for the scholarship."

Sager started at Ball State in 2008 after being laid off from the closing Guide Corp. In 2009, he became involved with a student chapter on campus, Association of Information Technology Professionals. Shortly after that he was nominated AITP-BSU student chapter president for the 2009-2010 school year.

"That was an extremely busy year between work, school, and organizing trips, guest speakers, and chapter activities for AITP-BSU. Even though it was busy, the year was amazing," Sager said.

Scholarship candidates are evaluated by the Foundation for Information Technology Education with a focus on demonstrated scholastic achievement, service, leadership and quality of the a CHICAGO — Peer Foods Group, Inc. has acquired Emge Foods, LLC, a historic Indiana-based meat company specializing in retail-branded, high-quality hams, bacon, hot dogs, sausage and a variety of other processed meats.

By acquiring Emge Foods, LLC, Peer Foods Group, Inc. will continue to build its portfolio of established brands in order to offer its customers greater choice while improving efficiency. Peer Foods Group, Inc. plans to fully support and grow the Emge brand of products. Through Peer Foods Group's shared product line, customers can now purchase Emge, Mariah and Peer Foods labels on one order and delivery.

Founded at the turn of the century, Emge Foods is known for its sausage, hot dogs, bologna and specialty bacon and ham cured using the Emge family's unique techniques. Its products are available nationally.

Peer Foods was founded in Chicago in 1867. It was one of the first meat companies in America to use refrigeration to sell fresh-cut meat year-round. In 1922 it opened a meat processing plant that would provide the foundation for the company's entry into food service. In 1996, Peer Foods acquired Mariah Foods, Inc. Today, Peer Foods Group, Inc. is recognized industry-wide for unsurpassed product quality and service excellence.

Like an eagle to the sky we have been called by God to our profession.

Ike Duffey was key figure in Anderson's picture

Jim Bailey

No history of Anderson would be complete without mention of Ike Duffey.

Ike first surfaced as owner of the Chief Anderson Packing Co. on West Eighth Street. But Duffey was a man of many interests, and the advent of pro basketball piqued his interest. He invested in a franchise that would be an important part of the formation of the National Basketball Association, the Anderson Packers. For several years in the 1940s, the Packers drew sizable crowds in the old Anderson Wigwam, playing against teams from both large and small cities, including the Minneapolis Lakers, as dominant then as they are now in Los Angeles.

Anderson, however, was one of the smaller cities in the NBA, and eventually the financial pressures resulted in the team's demise.

Meanwhile, Emge Packing Co., headquartered in Fort Branch, bought out Anderson's Chief Anderson meat packing plant, keeping the Chief Anderson name on some of its products. For many years Emge was one of Anderson's largest industries.

Eventually, competition in the meat packing industry put financial pressure on the Emge family, and the business was sold. It is now a subsidiary of Excel and still delivers meat products to area stores. But as the business was scaled back, the Anderson plant was closed and operations consolidated in Fort Branch. The old Emge plant in Anderson is now used by the city of Anderson.

And what of Ike Duffey? He became a railroad tycoon of sorts. He was named president of one of the last of the short line railroads, the Central Indiana Railway, taking a salary of $1 a year.

According to local historian Roger Hensley, the Central Indiana Railway, originally opened in the 1870s, at its peak stretched from Muncie to Brazil, and its advent was in part responsible for the existence of the town of Lapel. In 1943, however, with the line using mostly outdated equipment and struggling to survive, most of the line's track was abandoned, leaving only 43.95 miles from Anderson to Lebanon.

Duffey was determined to make the Central Indiana Railway profitable, signing on in 1951. A hands-on executive, he gave the railroad a degree of maintenance it had never known before. The tiny railroad continued making regular runs until it was sold in 1986 and became the Central Indiana & Western.

Duffey owned two private passenger cars, and he used them in the 1950s to further his love of sports. He would schedule regular excursions to major league baseball games in Cincinnati and Chicago.

Duffey died of cancer in the late 1960s, at which time Paul Perdiue assumed duties as head of the Central Indiana Railway. The evolution of the railroad picture in the 1960s, however, portended a limited future for one of the country's smallest rail companies.

Certainly Anderson's past was made more colorful with the contributions of Ike Duffey.

Jim Bailey's reflections on Anderson's past appear on Sunday. His regular column appears on Wednesday. He can be reached by e-mail at jameshenrybailey@earthlink.net.

The bill contains immediate property tax relief for taxpayers and protects homeowners from increases, Austin said.

The economy is slowing down, Austin said, and the state has not met its revenue targets during the past several months.

"If these trends continue, it will make it difficult to write a new state budget when we return to the Statehouse for our 2009 session," Austin said. "I would like to think that the work we've done in 2008 will resolve our property tax problems once and for all, but I fear we may have to address this issue again, perhaps as early as next year."

financing."

Large-item purchase industries may feel the increase the most, but at least one dealership is optimistic that the increase will not have a negative affect on sales.

"On a $20,000 car it will mean another $200, but we are bordering states that pay higher taxes than we do," said Derek Manis, sales manager at Ed Martin Toyota in Anderson. "And the property tax break may make up for most of it."

According to state sales tax rates compiled by the Federation of Tax Administrators, Indiana's sales tax rate will still be comparable to other states. Five states currently have no state sales tax, but allow localities to assess a sales tax. The rest of the states have a state and/or local sales tax single or combined rate of 4 percent or higher.

State tax rates in California, Mississippi, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Tennessee are also 7 percent. Many states appear to have a lower state tax rate, but allow localities to assess local sales taxes. In those states, the combined sales tax is between 6 percent and 10 percent. Indiana does not currently assess a general sales tax at the local level.

"I don't have a problem with the increase," said Anderson resident Lee Cash. "I don't object to sales tax. What bugs me is that you improve your home and then you can't afford to pay your taxes. Retirees have low pensions but nice homes."

The 1 percent increase will be used to pay for services previously provided by localities with property tax revenue which will now be shifted to the state, such as child welfare services and Department of Correction facilities for delinquent children.

Indiana's last sales tax increase was on Dec. 1, 2002. At that time, it was increased from 5 percent to 6 percent.

Consultants typically gather input from the community before drafting a comprehensive plan, according to the Web site. They organize traditional public hearings, workshops, surveys, focus groups or neighborhood meetings.

The firm also examines the community's infrastructure, such as roads, to see what types of improvements the town can make, according to the Web site.

LSL Planning officials were not available for comment this week.

The town has already submitted its grant application to get the money to hire a consulting firm, Lapel Clerk Treasurer Tom Tudor said.

The state will approve or deny the request by the end of April, Town Council President Gary Shuck said.

Lapel will have to match 10 percent of the grant, which is for no more than $50,000.

Town officials will likely pay for the match through the plan commission's budget, Tudor said.

Lapel will have a comprehensive plan by the end of the year if the grant is approved, Shuck said.

Anderson SWAT team captures suspect Friday

By JUSTIN SCHNEIDER
justin.schneider@heraldbulletin.com

The Anderson Police Department SWAT Team apprehended a potentially violent suspect without incident early Friday morning.

APD Detective Joel Sandefur, public information officer, said 30-year-old Anthony Tyrone Henderson was arrested during the deployment and has been charged with domestic battery, a Class D felony; criminal confinement, a Class D felony; and intimidation, a Class C felony. No one was hurt in the operation.

"It ended the way we planned it," Sandefur said. "That's the way we want all of our high-intensity incidents to go."

According to Sandefur, Henderson's wife told Anderson police she had been battered by her husband Thursday evening. When she attempted to take her three children out of the family home, in the 2700 block of West 18th Street, Henderson confined her while holding a handgun. He eventually calmed down and allowed her and the children to leave and she reported the incident to the APD around 9:45 p.m.

"We used the SWAT Team because of a number of handguns she told us were in the house," Sandefur said. "He made threats against her and told her that the only way she was going to leave the house was in a body bag."

The SWAT Team was activated and a search warrant provided by the prosecutor's office. A negotiator with the APD made contact with Henderson around 1:45 a.m., and he surrendered at around 2:15 a.m.

Henderson was arrested and is currently being held at the Madison County Jail. Henderson's charge of domestic battery was upgraded to a Class D felony because the incident took place in front of children younger than 16.

A than 8,0 runs

By JESSICA KERMAN
jessica.kerman@heraldbulletin.com

The Anderson Fire Department dispatched more than 8,000 runs in 2007, which officials are saying is high for an area of Anderson's size.

"It's an older community with more retirees and more old buildings," said Dave Cravens, deputy chief at AFD.

Out of 8,101 total runs dispatched, 5,981 were ambulance runs and 2,204 were fire runs. These numbers include false alarms.

The Anderson Fire Department covers all of Anderson and responds to some outlying areas. According to census data, Anderson has about 58,000 residents.

The Kokomo Fire Department went on more runs than Anderson, and the city has a smaller population.

Brad Bray, division chief for Emergency Medical Services at the Kokomo Fire Department, said the department responded to a total of 8,561 runs in 2007. Out of those, 5,769 were fire and 2,792 were ambulance.

"We're busy up here," he said.

According to the census data, Kokomo has about 46,000 residents.

These are high numbers compared to a city such as Fishers, which has almost 48,000 residents.

The Fishers Fire Department reported a total of 3,762 runs, 70 percent of which were medical, said Ron Lipps, public information officer.

"Kokomo and Anderson are totally different demographics than us," Lipps said.

While Anderson has large manufacturing companies with heavy industrial concentrations, Fishers has some light industry and is a "bedroom community," Lipps said.
